

Message from JEY, 7-24-04

Know that JEY is here and JEY does come in the will of the Creator. Those of you who are here at this time will welcome those of us who come in Spirit. And we would advise you that JEY does come at this time to give information that will be of importance to you. It has been the will of the Creator that we be here at this time. JEY would ask that you simply allow your hearts to be open. Allow that which is the wisdom of each one to be set aside and be willing to accept this which JEY has to say at this time.

There is an opportunity on Earth for each of you at this time as Spirit-in-Body to help others who come into your presence each day. And so what JEY has to say is simply geared to that respect, and that is to allow you to be open to those people that will approach you each day of your life as you live as Spirit-in-Body. And so at this time those of us who are here would simply ask that each of you who are here would be open to that which is to be said to you and so accept that which is meaningful to you.

As JEY is aware at this time, each of you – although you are in occupations that are very different – have indeed learned to be patient with those with whom you work. This is important for you, as you learn to be patient for each one who comes into your presence. It is not always easy as you are aware. Patience is a gift, and you must indeed learn to use that which is patience in your dealing and relationship to other people. And so as we talked about that which is patience at this time, as an attribute which is your own Spiritual beliefs, we would ask that you accept what JEY has to give you in that experience. Know that JEY does come in the will of the Creator to give this message; and JEY would appreciate your prayers as you are in meditation, that JEY would give the information that would be helpful to you in showing patience to others who come into your presence.

And so with that said, allow JEY to say this. There is no greater attribute in ones life as Spirit-in-Body than that which is patience. There is of course love, and JEY can understand that each of you have experienced love, and are experiencing love, in some form. That has been easy for you to do. But it has not always been easy for you to show patience when you have a need to show patience! And so you would find that in regard to the people who are in your life each day and in regard to those who come into your life only once...that you be able to show patience to them. They will learn from that which you DO must faster than any other way. You may say many things to them with regard to showing patience; but you must in all your dealings SHOW patience with regard to the people who come into your presence and who are in your love.

Allow JEY to further give you information in this regard. There is an opportunity for each of you to simply tell another who comes into your presence about patience; but if you do not show patience in regard to those who need it, and that person or persons would observe you with regard to what you are showing to others, you are saying that they must show patience but you are refusing to allow that to be shown to another in this lifetime, you will not be able to show all that you are doing in telling another person that patience is important. As JEY can see at this time, each one of you who have some difficulty in being patient with another person, or even with that which is an animal, you must indeed allow this to be so for you to become that which is a Spiritual person.

Once you are able to show patience and love to others who come into your presence, you will then be able to tell about patience and love and the importance of those in relation to those who come into your lives. And so with that said, JEY would like to go to another topic at this time.

There is upon the Earth at this time much to be feared...that is unless you have an opportunity to simply look after that which is the spiritual impact upon your life. We are afraid throughout the earth about the wars, of that which is terrorism upon the Earth. You must not live in an attitude of fear. You must live in an attitude of knowing that what you expect in this life of love and concern for all mankind will be shown in this lifetime for you. You have nothing to fear; and yet through the medium of news which you have upon the Earth, through that which you hear upon the news media, you will find that there are more remarks about things of fear than any other thing that you might hear. You are afraid of what might happen to you if you listen to all those who are 'nay sayers' and who do indeed come forth with all that is known to mankind about fear at this time.

JEY would say to you that if you would simply, as we would say, wrap yourself in a cloak of that which is Spiritual understanding, Spiritual knowledge, love and all those things that we have talked about with regard to a peaceful relationship in this life, you will find that there is no room for many things that are laid before you at this time upon the Earth. And so, with fear as being related as so often is done now, you need to be more concerned about those things of a peaceful nature rather than a fearful nature.

Be at peace with what you are forced to hear. You do not have to listen to or read all those things with regard to fear that you hear; and yet it is known upon the Earth that mankind is so wrapped up in fear and wondering about what is going to happen to them that they take little time to think about that which is their Spiritual nature.

JEY would ask you at this time to think beyond that which is fear; to think beyond to that which is peace. And as you think of peace, you can overcome those things of fear. There is indeed simply a time which is peace upon Earth, and you can think of this and understand about peace and quiet and the peaceful things that mankind can draw to self. JEY would ask each one who is here to think of doing a peaceful thing during the days to come. Be not afraid, but draw to self thoughts of peace, that you may help another human upon the Earth to be at peace, to think of peace, to think of love, to think of patience. And by those means, be more alert to the Spiritual part of life. You can share these things with others who come into your presence. You do not have to just talk about those things of Spirit, but simply talk about those things that JEY has mentioned....those things of patience, love, and peace. Be not fearful of what is to come but rather take unto self what might be if this Earth moved to a time of peace upon Earth.

May that which is Love go with you, and guide you in that which is to come in the days ahead. And know that as you spend time in meditation and in prayer, love and peace and patience must be uppermost in your thoughts. Give it your time. Give it your knowledge that you can bring to self that which is peace and love and patience if you will seek to find these in your life.

JEY would advise you that this has not been a sermon, but rather a suggestion that you can live fully a life that is filled with those things rather than a life filled with fear which so many have at this time. Go now in love. Be at peace. AMEN.
